East Bridgewater High School

THIS WE HAVE DONE WITH TEARS AND LAUGHTER.

EAST BRIDGEWATER

FOREWORD

As we look forward to graduation, we see our twelve years of assiduous labar and immeasurable progress reach a climax in one evening. If we have developed a wider appreciation for the world around us, it will be a night filled with the glories of the past. The failures will be there too, but they will seem insignificant and only strengthen our faith in our class and, most important, in ourselves. The good and the bad, the bright and the dark are ever present in these reflections – for these were years of tears and laughter.

DEDICATION

The supreme art of the teacher is to awaken joy in creative expression and knowledge.

Chesterfield

Between the first exciting day of school and the proud moment of graduation comes a parade of people who have earned the respect of the entire student body. Without their guidance and inspiration, we would be drifting aimlessly with no future in a world designed for the educated. But, really, what is a teacher?

A teacher is a heart that is sincere and understanding.
A teacher is a mind that is strong and wise.
A teacher is a hand that guides towards success.
A teacher is friendship and wit.
A teacher is faith in tomorrow.

The students of East Bridgewater High School are most fortunate because we have had the privilege of knowing such a teacher. Our hearts are filled with tribute to this woman who has devoted her life to the youth of East Bridgewater. With a sense of glowing pride and deep dedication, the Class of 1966 proudly pays tribute to Miss Mary Sullivan, Teacher.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

Class of 1966:

The graduates of 1966 stand at the threshold of a great and stimulating future. The significant issue before you is the dignity of the human personality and reverence for every human life. As young men and women, you are faced with a call such as you have never before faced. It is a challenge not of destroying but of building. A new frontier awaits you – a horizon whose boundaries are limited only by your imagination and good will.

In the words of Kipling, the frontier is waiting for you:

"There's no sense in going further,
'Tis the end of civilization,
So they said and I believed it,
Till a voice as loud as thunder
Rang interminable changes on one everlasting whisper,
Day and night repeated,
Something hidden, go and find it,
Go and look beyond the ranges,
Lost and waiting for you. Go!"

Stanley B. Goldman
Superintendent of Schools

Dear Seniors:

"Today is the Tomorrow we worried about Yesterday." True enough. However, never be caught in the trap of that thought. Life has much to offer to those who seek it. Worrying can become merely an excuse offered by the non-worker, the non-thinker.

Let it be said by you, "Today is the Tomorrow we prepared for Yesterday." Face the challenges of a task until you conquer it. Think out an issue until you have your conclusion.

Our generation is proud of you, for your yesterdays were filled with accomplishments. Our generation congratulates you, for today you reach the threshold of maturity. Our generation realizes you are the tomorrows.

Very sincerely
Raymond A. Hamilton
Principal

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

SALUTATION

The senior class takes special pride in saluting a gentleman to whom we owe a great deal of gratitude. Words cannot express the admiration we have for this man who has led our class through the lowest valleys of despair to the mountains of success. There have been times when we seemed hopeless, but he never gave up the confidence he held in our class. This heart is sincere. Here is a dedicated man. With laughter we remember the good times we had with him. With tears of sentiment we thank our class advisor, Mr. Robert Magner.

ADMINISTRATION and MEDICAL

Vice-Principal Mr. Joseph Morey

Along with his duties as teacher, coach, and Vice-Principal, Mr. Morey has the added distinction of being EBHS's chief private investigator. While taking an active interest in our student body and its activities, Mr. Morey has remained a pillar of discipline and has brought to our school a certain esprit d'ecole.

Guidance Director Mrs. Jean Bumgardner

If you take a dash of wit, a dosh of dedication and a pinch of enthusiasm, you have part of the dynamic personality of our new guidance director, Mrs. Bumgardner. Throughout the year she has taken an active interest in student affairs, counseled seniors in their college plans, and planned the curriculum with such vitality that she might be called the "human dynama."

While the rogue disease occasionally appears in the dark, glaomy corridors of the high school, a ray of sunlight in the form of Mrs. Hartman, the school nurse, efficiently combats infectious rogues with the zeal and enthusiasm of a miracle worker.

School Nurse Mrs. Phyllis Hartman

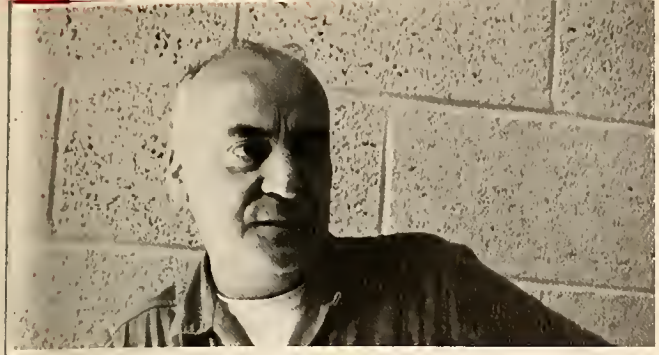
SECRETARIES

"Essential" is the only word that can be used to describe our high school secretarial staff. Everything from paper clips to school records are kept in tact in their offices. We offer them a hearty thanks for all their friendly assistance during our four years in high school.

Mrs. Keohane

Mrs. Baggia



Mr. Perkins

KITCHEN and CUSTODIANS

Throughout the year a small group of industrious ndividuals has assisted the faculty and student body without hesitation or complaint. While the custodial staff is concerned with the high school physical plant, he kitchen staff involves the nutritional school lunch program.

The TORCH staff extends o special thanks to Mr. Perkins for all his extra work in helping us move nto our new office.

FACULTY

The students of East Bridgewater High School owe a word of grotitude to the faculty for their assistance and guidance in preparing us for our future. Under their supervision we have developed our natural talents while maturing in an atmosphere conducive to growth and expansion. While our destiny lies beyond our grasp, we are better people because of our teachers.

SENIOR CLASS ADVISORS

During our senior year, as we do many things for the last time, we stop and reflect. Mr. Robert Magner has been our class advisor since 1962 when he began the four year journey through high school with us. In 1964 Miss Patricia Kelly was designated as our assistant class advisor. The Junior Prom, the Class Play, and the Senior Reception ... Mr. Magner and Miss Kelly were indispensible to their success. While class meetings heatedly provoked us all, our advisors were there to cool our temperament. The class of 1966 will most certainly remember with deep gratitude our dedicated class advisors.

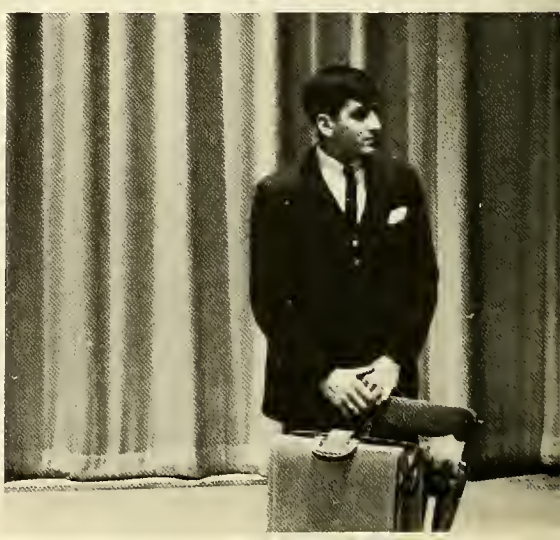
JUNIOR PROM

Beneath the shadows of the august Aku Aku, we glided gracefully around a tropical paradise, bathed in mellow tones of blue and green. With the tears of anguish long forgotten, couples danced to the soft music of a fine orchestra amid the serene beauty of the South Pacific. While reality quickly overcomes the world of fantasy, our Junior Prom will always remain with us as part of the spirit of the Class of "66."



CLASS PLAY

They laughed when we said we were going to invade New York City with bows and arrows. They laughed when the Army General thought a declaration of war was a William Tell masquerade. They laughed when an elite duchess proposed to a dense woodsman. Yes, everyone laughed throughout the entire production of "The Mouse That Roared."

But it wasn't only the audience that laughed; the happiness and laughter in the hearts of the actors surmounted all other laughter. For this was "our" play. We acted and lived our parts, always hiding the melancholy thought that soon it would be over – nothing but shadows left on a laughing stage.

However, as we remember, we laugh again, knowing that the laughter of memories never diminishes.

To Mrs. Molloy, our director, we thank you for all your wonderful work and for laughing along with us.

If you stop and reflect, you will realize that our four years of tears and laughter have been captured forever by the combined efforts of many talented people. We call them the 1966 TORCH staff.

In the background there stands a man who guided us through the anguish of preparing the 1966 TORCH. We, the staff, wish to bring him forward and thank him from the bottom of our hearts for his sturdy hand and strong determination. Our goal was set high, but he gave us the necessary push to reach it. With tears we reach the end of much enjoyment with him, with pride we recall everything he meant to us – our advisor, Mr. Albert Kjellerstedt.

Third row: E. McClare, R. Tower, C. Roan, J. Hanson, K. Jones, K. Twomey, S. Rust, D. Rugg, R. Zentz, P. Bates.

The Student Council is comprised of elected representatives which are chosen by the members of each home room. The freshmen and sophomore home rooms are allowed one representative from each room, whereas each junior and senior home room is given the privilege of two representatives.

The student council functions as the government of the student body at East Bridgewater High School. It represents the student body to the faculty and the administration, and initiates reforms which the student body favors.

ARGUS

THE ARGUS is the newspaper of East Bridgewater High School. It is written for the student body by a group of hard working individuals who have volunteered their time and efforts to the paper.

Support for the paper has improved during the year and several school-wide debates on controversial topics have resulted from stimulating articles.

THE ARGUS indeed is what it professes to be – the voice of the students.

While scholarship, service, leadership, and character serve as primary foundation far the National Hanor Society, growth and development are the stimulants that perpetuate the society. Under the supervision af Mr. Albert Kjellerstedt, the society has initiated several new programs aimed at allowing the abilities and effarts of the group ta benefit East Bridgewater High School.

FRENCH, CHORAL, and ART

"Chantons mes amis!" Avec ces mots le grand directeur, Monsieur Ketcham, commence une chanson francaise avec les membres du French, Choral, and Art Group. Peut-être la melodie est un peu imparfait, mais tout le monde s'amuse. De temps en temps on presente des films interessants, soit sur un autre aspect de la vie francaise.

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

The civilizations of ancient Greece and Rome are brought to life as the torch of classical learning enlightens the members of the Junior Classical League. Various films, lectures, and a colorful initiation program are highlights of the year and stimulate a great deal of interest in the organization and classical scholarship.

Row four: B. Milligan, P. Mola, J. Craig, R. Alexander, Mr. John Schuller – Director.

Under the expert direction of Mr. John L. Schuller, the high school band has enjoyed another successful season. Whether it be on the field or in the concert hall, the band has made an impressive showing in its sparkling blue and gold uniforms. While these musicians engaged in many rallies, concerts, and parades, the highlight of the year came in the spring when the band travelled to Ayre, Massachusetts, for an exchange concert.

MAJORETTES

The sparkle of batons, twirled by stylish majorettes in blue and gold uniforms, has enhanced the performances of our band this year. Whether or not on the stage or a cold football field, these girls performed with a spirit indicating fine talent.

CHORUS

The sound of music is a particularly sweet sound, and our high school chorus, under the direction of the vociferous Mr. James Goodwin, takes no exception to this rule. Various programs are presented throughout the school year, and these are enjoyed by the townspeople as well as by the faculty and student body of the high school.

Mr. James Goodwin, Director

CLINIC ASSISTANTS

Always ready to aid the sick, the clinic assistants have rightfully earned the respect of the entire student body. While taking temperatures and treating minor injuries, they have learned the basic skills of first aid and have been invaluable help to our school nurse, Mrs. Hartman.

CAFETERIA ASSISTANTS

The kitchen staff is aided each noontime by a group of students who serve in every capacity from scraping plates to cleaning tables. Their efforts often go unrecognized by the student body, which fails to realize how much the cafeteria assistants contribute to the lunch program.

Front row: V. Long, K. Woodward, J. Costello
Back row: P. Beach, K. Lyons, D. Brusseau, H. Gallagher

LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

In the course of one day, over two hundred people walk, run, and push themselves into the library. This necessitates a rugged crew of individuals who can withstand the storm and help Mrs. Hynes in her daily duties, which include mending, shelving, and stamping books.

Clockwise
Toble one: G. DeChristopher, A. Wilcox, A. DuCille, R. Hordman, L. Lundgren, M. Horsley, L. Corthell.

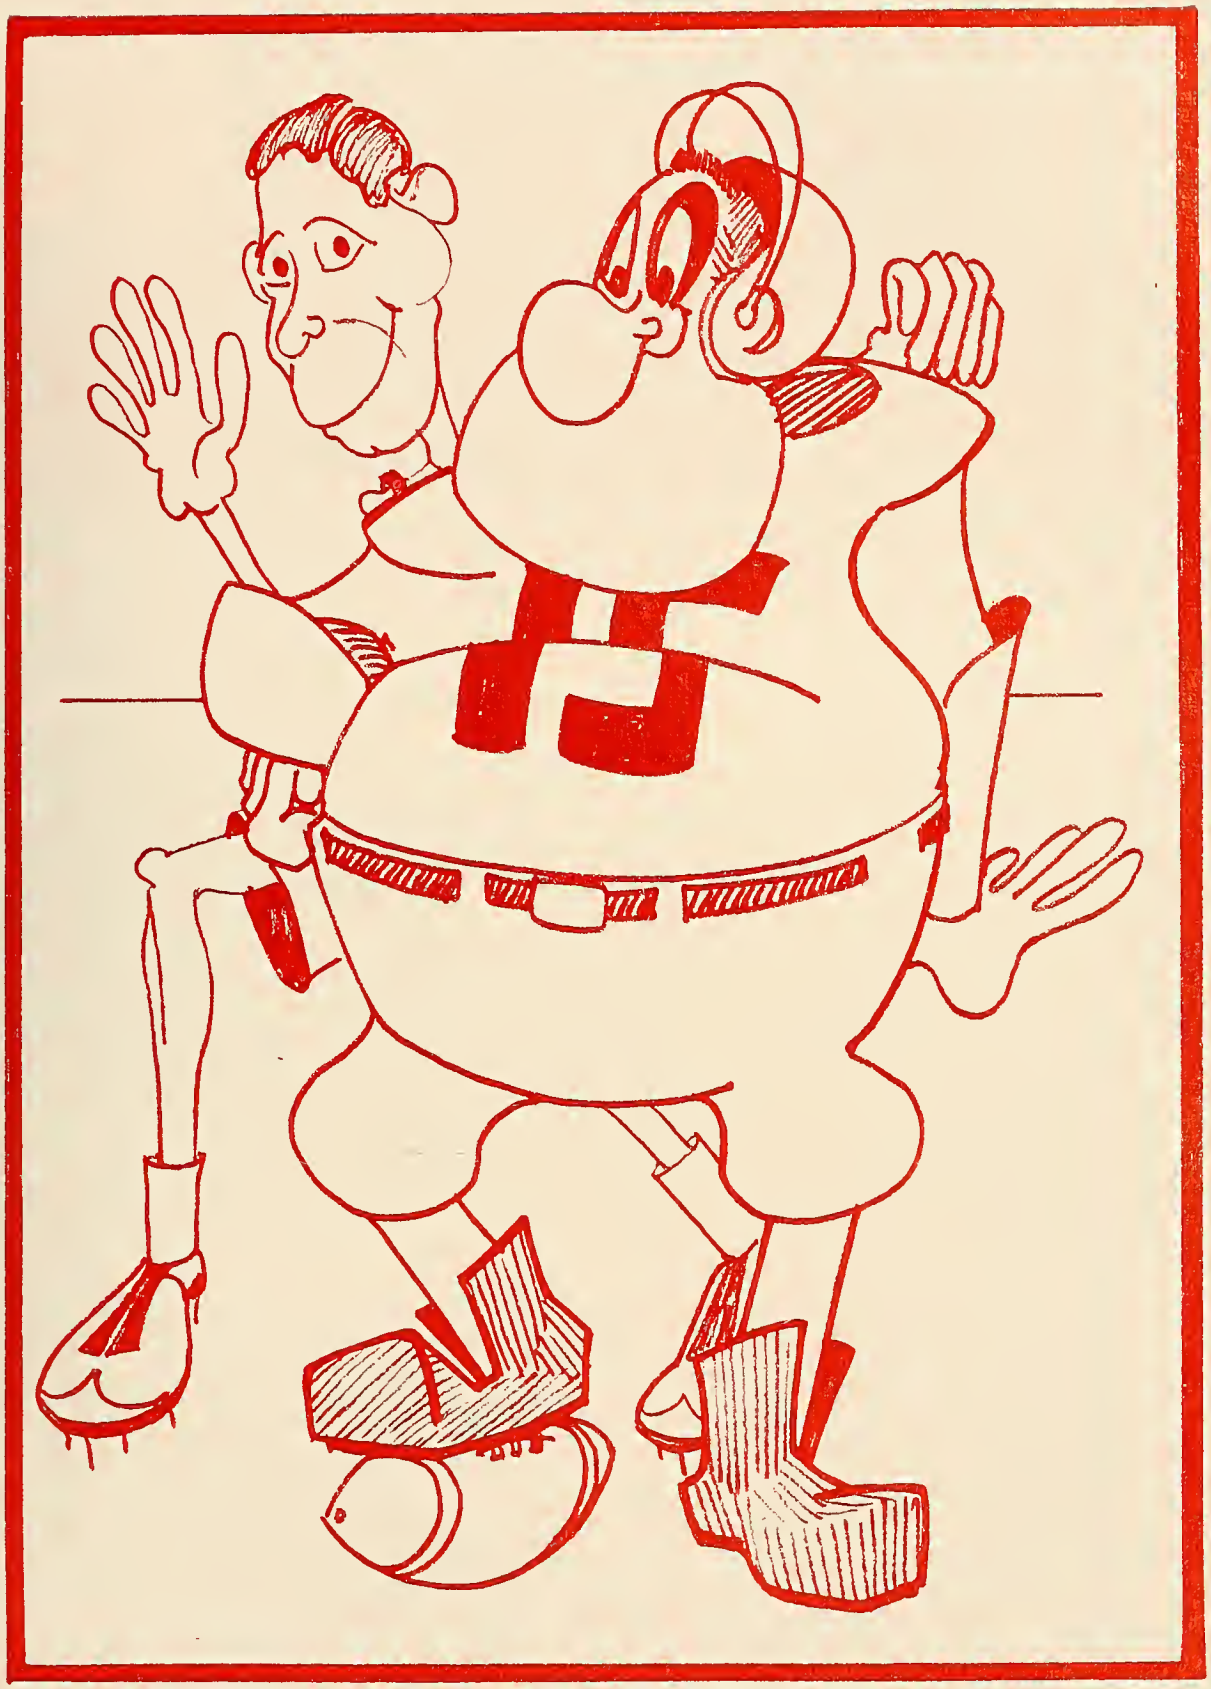
SPORTS



Back row: C. Duarte, N. Sparling, R. Corthell, C. Perrault, A. Demers.
Front row: M. Woodard – Co-captain, C. Farrell, T. Corthell – Co-captain.

CHEERLEADERS

Jumping, shouting, clapping ..... these girls never run out of energy. The cheerleaders are to be commended for their endless efforts to support our teams – win or lose. Practices and more practices resulted in excellence. The Vikings will long remember our girls in blue and gold.

CROSS COUNTRY

Sore legs and aching muscles were seemingly insignificant to aur cross country team as they ran successfully in a difficult season.

With unbending spirit, they saw many successes, made headlines in the South Shore Principal's meet, and compiled five victories under the dedicated leadership of coach Edward J. Meaney.

FOOTBALL

The cold winds of fall by na means dompened the ever-increasing spirit of our 1965 football team. Under the leadership of Coach Paul Urban, EBHS completed a more successful season than the team has previously enjoyed in several years. Occasionally, balls were fumbled, ond passes were intercepted, yet the fans continued to root for the Easties. Much to the opponents' disappointment, the winning spirit was ever present.

BASKETBALL

Led on by a winning spirit, our boys on the court were fighting all the way to topple many tough teams in the South Shore League. We finished with a winning record of 11 – 8, highlighted by many close games. The competition was willing and we were ready to do our best. With sorrow we watched seven seniors play their last game for the Vikings. With pride we congratulate Captain Jerry Moxley for his selection as a South Shore League All-Star. With smiles we remember our team's burning efforts to succeed.

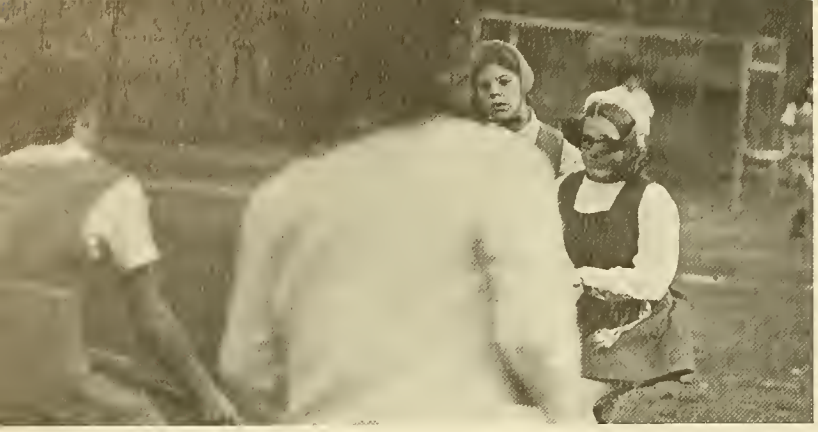
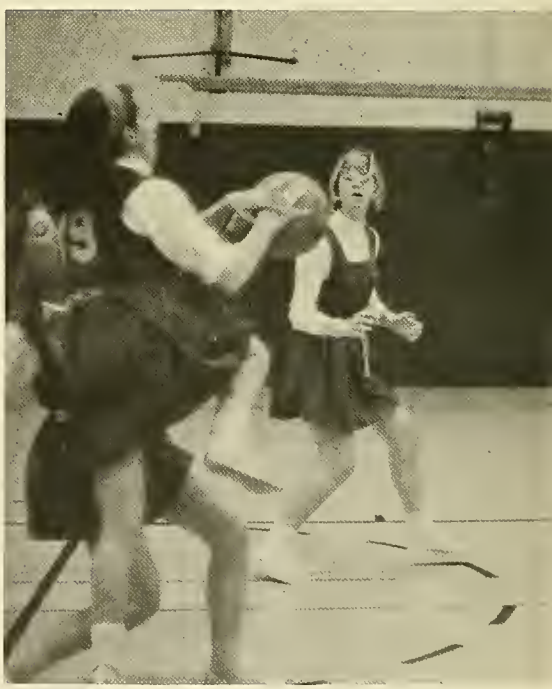
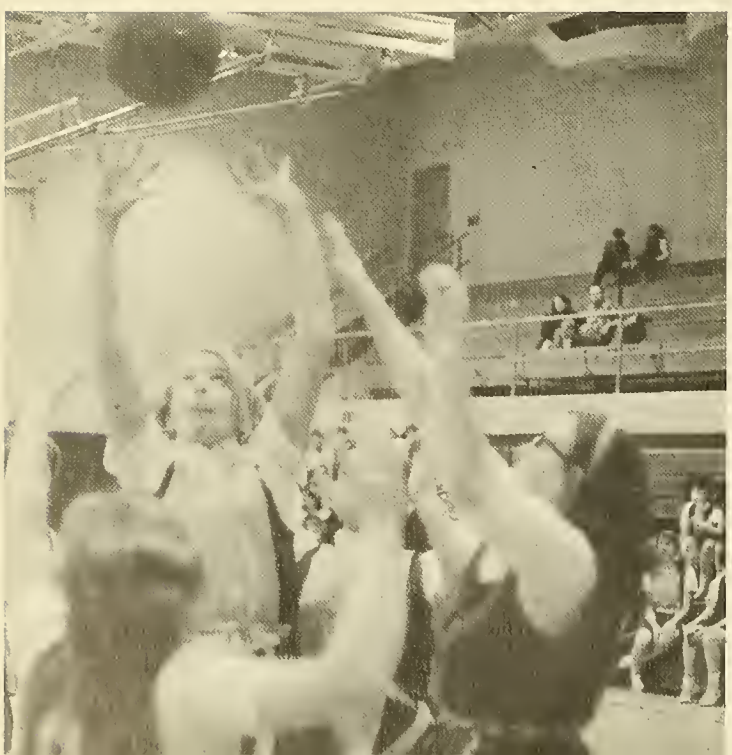
FIELD HOCKEY

Only the players themselves can experience the excitement and satisfactian that comes from playing field hockey. During the season EBHS, coached by Mrs. Virginia Lavering, wan and lost, but the spirit and enthusiasm af the girls on the field hockey team was unequaled.



GIRL'S BASKETBALL





Unacknowledged for their lasting efforts, the Easties girls fought bravely again this year under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Lovering. Little support was put out for this team, but within themselves they found the burning drive ta unite their skills and win. The girls proved themselves worthy of praise every bit as much as the boys.
